Professor Jonathan Barry Forman is the Kenneth E. McAfee Centennial Chair in Law at the University of Oklahoma, where he teaches courses on tax and pension law. Professor Forman served in Washington, DC, as the Professor in Residence for the Internal Revenue Service Office of Chief Counsel for the 2009–2010 academic year, and he was a member of the Board of Trustees of the Oklahoma Public Employees Retirement System (OPERS) from 2003 through 2011.

Professor Forman is also active in the American Bar Association, the American College of Employee Benefits Counsel, the American College of Tax Counsel (a regent since 2017), the Association of American Law Professors, and the National Academy of Social Insurance. Professor Forman has lectured around the world, testified before Congress, and served on numerous federal and state advisory committees.

Professor Forman has more than 300 publications including MAKING AMERICA WORK (Urban Institute Press 2006); Survivor Funds, 37(1) PACE LAW REVIEW 204 (Fall 2016) (with Michael J. Sabin); Removing the Legal Impediments to Offering Lifetime Annuities in Pension Plans, 23(1) CONNECTICUT INSURANCE LAW JOURNAL 31–141 (Fall 2016); Making the Internal Revenue Service Work, 17(10) FLORIDA TAX REVIEW 725 (2015) (with Roberta F. Mann); and Tontine Pensions, 163(3) UNIVERSITY OF PENNSYLVANIA LAW REVIEW 755 (Feb. 2015) (with Michael J. Sabin). In addition to his many scholarly publications, Professor Forman has published op-eds in Barron’s, the Los Angeles Times, the Dallas Morning News, the Cleveland Plain Dealer, the Washington Times, the Daily Oklahoman, and numerous other newspapers and magazines. Professor Forman earned his law degree from the University of Michigan in 1978, and he has Master’s degrees in economics and psychology. Also, prior to entering academia, it was his privilege to serve in all three branches of the federal government, including as Tax Counsel to the late Senator Daniel Patrick Moynihan (D-NY).
